Mothership Creative Moves To A New Facility

Newbury Park, California (May 6, 2010) – Mothership Creative, a Southern California based creative agency, moved into their new facilities this week in beautiful Newbury Park, California.

Mothership Creative was founded in 2007, and provides premium creative consulting, brand development, design, and production services, specializing in providing personalized attention to select clientele.

“This new facility not only gives us room to grow, but allows us to do what we do best, which is to be creative,” said producer Darci Sutton, “Plus, all the various departments are now under one roof, and that centralization is very good for our efficiency as a company. Not to mention that Newbury Park is a very beautiful and peaceful place.”

The community of Newbury Park is located in the western portion of the city of Thousand Oaks in the Conejo Valley and abuts the Santa Monica Mountains National Recreation Area. Presently, Newbury Park has the 11th highest per capita income and the 4th highest median household income in the nation, and was ranked as one of the top 100 places to live in the country by Money Magazine.

“So, in essence, we’re surrounded by potential clientele,” adds President/CEO, John Mulhall, “but we also think this is a perfect location from which to service our existing clientele. So, we’re very pleased.”
